Financial Information

If you are invited by BEST to make a full application, you must disclose all financial support you expect to receive, in cash or in kind. Failure to comply or false statements will result in your immediate disqualification. If the exact figures are not known, you will be asked to make an accurate estimate.

If you are not yet sure of actual financial support that will be available to you, who else have you applied to; how much you have applied for; and when you expect to hear the result.

Remember, you need to demonstrate that you have some other source of funding or your application will be ineligible. BEST's programme is only designed to provide additional top-up funds. Most other organisations such as Prospect Burma and OSI, require you to have another income source. The maximum amount BEST can fund is $600, so we need to know who you have applied to for the balance. Failure to disclose this information will mean you will not get a scholarship from BEST.
